The Tech

Vol. XXV. No. 57. BOSTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1906 Price Three Cents.

DARTMOUTH WINS.

The Last Game of the Season Goes to Visitors. Score 58 to 18.

In a brilliant game before full benches, Dartmouth outplayed Tech last night. The score, however, is creditable to Tech, for Williams failed to score, and Yale was beaten recently by the Hanover five.

Team work was the strong element in Dartmouth's game, and Tech's playing could not meet it.

The game started off with a rush and for the first half was an exhibition game for Dartmouth. Tech was passed about the floor at the visitors' pleasure, and against the husky Dartmouth men seemed to stand small show. But in spite of this the home team rallied enough to score three times on fouls. Burleigh made some good tries but failed to fill the ring. Kinnear played well for Tech. On the Dartmouth side Grebenstein, McGrail, and Russ were the stars. Grebenstein made five goals from the floor and three on fouls.

In the second half Blankard went in and aided Dartmouth materially.

The Dartmouth team was well supported by a benchful of rooters, who assisted enthusiastically. The banjo club was present and added much to the pleasure of the games.

Summary:

Tech.	Dartmouth.
Deavitt, r.f.	r.f., Grebenstein
Kinnear, l.f.	l.f., Russ
Pierce, c.	c., Long
Burleigh, (Capt.) r.g.	r.g., Allen

Score—58-18; goals from floor—Dartmouth 27, Tech 7. Goals on foul—Dartmouth 4, Tech 4. Referee—H. C. Blake. Umpire—Blankard. Two 20-min. halves.

Contrary to expectation the 1909 five, drummed up at the last minute, showed to better advantage than the Sophomore team. The Freshmen made 4 goals in the first half, Wentworth leading in play. The game was loosely played, but individual stunts were numerous and afforded much amusement for the spectators, who soon chose sides and rooted right merrily.

PROFESSOR GILL'S ADDRESS.

The Mechanical Engineering Society met at the Union Wednesday evening at 8 P.M. to hear Professor Gill speak on "Lubricants." About thirty-five members were present. Professor Gill showed a number of samples of various lubricants and described the processes used in their manufacture and refining. He also spoke of the uses and applications of lubricants. After the talk, refreshments were served and the evening ended with songs and music.

1907 DINNER.

The Juniors Have an Enthusiastic Time at the Union.

Good-fellowship was the spirit of the occasion Thursday evening when 1907 held its sixth semi-annual class dinner at the Union. About one hundred men were in attendance and an excellent dinner, good speakers, stories, and songs made the occasion surpass all former gatherings of '07. Those seated at the speaker's table were toastmaster Alexander Macomber, Prof. Dewey, Packard, '07, Bursar Rand, Leavell, '07, Prof. Allen, and the committee in charge.

Professor Dewey, the first speaker of the evening, talked in a humorous vein and created much comment by his "Advice of a student to the Faculty."

Bursar Rand said that he felt that he should not be compelled to furnish entertainment as well as the report. He spoke of the benefits of the Union as a place to congregate, and told everyone to feel welcome there. Professor Allen emphasized the fact that thoroughness has made the Tech education what it is today.

PROMINENT INVENTOR TO SPEAK.

Mr. E. G. Acheson, who is to speak at at the Tech Union this evening, has distinguished himself in industrial science.

He was born in Washington, Pa., in 1856, educated at Bellefonte Academy, entered his father's sand blast furnace and later studied chemistry and electricity. In 1881 he was in Thos. A. Edison's laboratory, and in 1883 Assistant Engineer of Edison's work in Europe. In 1891 he discovered the silicide of carbon called "carborundum," and formed the Carborundum Company. In 1895 he obtained patents for the production of graphite in the electric furnace. He is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the Franklin Institute of Pennsylvania, and other scientific societies.

Mr. Acheson is in a position to give a most interesting lecture, and is not restricted by his subject, which is, "Invention and Discovery."

The Mining Society extends its invitation to all men who are interested in the subject to be present at 7.30 sharp this evening.

1908 ELECTORAL COMMITTEE.

The Class of 1908 have chosen the following men to comprise the Technique Electoral Committee: W. A. Adams, H. E. Allen, M. E. Allen, J. S. Barnes, H. D. Bounetheau, T. H. Boylston, J. C. Brooks, F. H. McGuigan, T. W. Orr, H. R. Putnam, H. A. Rapelye, T. T. Tobin, R. B. Todd, K. Vonnegut, H. Webb, W. F. Dolke, A. Ellis, E. I. Williams, G. S. Witmer, H. Gerrish, B. L. Gimson, W. B. Given, G. T. Glover, A. W. Heath, W. R. Heilman.

KOMMERS SCHEDULE.

Pres. Lucius Tuttle of the B. & M. to Speak Tomorrow Evening.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston and Maine Railroad, will be the special guest at the Kommers tomorrow evening. It is expected that Dr. Pritchett will also be present. Mr. Tuttle is known as a very interesting speaker, and his subject, "Railroading," is one that is always interesting.

Complete arrangements have been made for the remaining Kommers, so that the following schedule is announced: March 17, Junior Night; March 24, piano recital by Ernest Thompson Stone; March 31, Guy Ham, Assistant U. S. District Attorney; April 7, Sophomore Night; April 14, Senior Night; April 21, open. It has not yet been decided by the House Committee whether or not the Kommers shall be continued up to the time of the final examinations.

It is very earnestly requested that men purchase their tickets beforehand so that the chef may know for how many to provide. The committee wishes that the men always have enough to eat, but this would be impossible if a large number of men were to turn up unexpectedly.

PRIZE DRILL PLANS.

A meeting of the Freshman Battalion was held in the South Armory Wednesday afternoon to discuss the Annual Prize Drill. It was decided that it would be preferable to hold the Interscholastic Competitive Drill and the Prize Drill of the Battalion on different days, and the following committee was elected to take charge of all arrangements: King, R. H. Allen, Miller, Dickerman, Jackson, Whittaker, and Hodson. An overwhelming majority then voted to have the Battalion Prize Drill on Friday evening, May 25. There will be no drill on the last Wednesday of the term.

At the close of the drill a meeting of the Committee on Arrangements was held in the officers' room, and Hodson, Adjutant of the Battalion, was elected Secretary and Dickerman Treasurer. The date of the Interscholastic Drill was set for Wednesday, May 2, and the conditions and movements of the competition were arranged. Provision was made for the appointment of a subcommittee to send circulars to all New England schools eligible to the competition, and the meeting adjourned to March 14.

Tech Fencers are Right.

The absence of accuracy in the articles of the ordinary newspaper reporter is a matter which all those who come in for their share of such printed misinformation as appeared, for instance, in the Boston Herald of March 8, cannot but regret. This article which endeavors to tell the reasons for the cancelling of the Fencing Meet, scheduled for March 17, only brings more strongly to our notice that the reliability of a newspaper clipping cannot be judged from the quantity of news which it seemingly contains.

The real reason for disagreement was the failure of the teams concerned to come to a satisfactory decision as to the judges. Harvard held that the B. A. A. fencers, who had served before, should be chosen; while Technology desired some changes. Those who have attended the last two meets at the Gym cannot but realize the urgent need of judges who can see a touch whether it is acknowledged or not. From a sportsman's point of view, the fencer is in honor bound to acknowledge when his opponent has succeeded in touching him. Though this is done as a rule, the judges were noticeably incompetent when they were deciding a bout in which one man failed to make any acknowledgement; and because of this unsportsmanlike action on the part of the fencers, the judges rendered decisions far from satisfactory and seemingly unfair.

Technology's position in this matter needs no defence — contrary to what the Herald intimates—and the mere fact that the judges were of the B. A. A. does not insure them against such deplorable mistakes as marked the meet with Pennsylvania and Harvard. The "meet last week" referred to was under the management of the Harvard Fencing Association, and it was they who selected the judges and not Technology as was reported. This apparent partiality is probably the result of one coach teaching both the B. A. A. fencers and the Harvard team, and when there are such close relations between two organizations, it seems but natural to endeavor to secure impartial judges. Another fact that was overlooked was, that a referee—one who is supposed to give the final decision—had to be awakened from a catch-as-catch-can nap, to perform his duties as the bout was progressing.

The impression which the article endeavors to convey is decidedly uncomplimentary to Technology, but the longing for quantity apparently caused a slip which, when looked into, is insulting to the sportsmanship of the Harvard team, namely, the reason for not transferring the meet to New York. The article reads as follows:

"The Harvard management replied that they could not get any judges in New York, owing to the fact that there is to be another meet there that same night."

Now this sounds rather weak when we stop to think that in New York there must surely be at least six fencing masters, or accomplished fencers, who could be secured to render impartial decisions. The intimation that the prowess of Harvard was feared, may satisfy one who has never participated in sports; but those who have — and it is these whom the article is intended to misinform — cannot but realize that it is the right of every contestant in any match whatever to ask for fair play, and to try to obtain it; but when all concessions are on one side, and impartiality cannot be assured, nothing is left but to withdraw.
